

Our personalities make us unique; no matter what you love doing or how smart you are, we should all be treated equally.

What is Equality and Diversity?

Don't make someone feel excluded just because of their appearance or intelligence

Equality means making sure individuals or groups of individuals are treated fairly and equally and respected like everyone else no matter what their disability, religion or belief, nationality/culture/race, sexual orientation or age. Diversity means to value people's differences and respect who they are.

Our nationality/culture or race, makes us special; if you're from a different country, don't hide it, use it. This makes you, you.

Our differences make us who we are and don't let anyone make you think otherwise.

We should all be treated equally no matter our gender, disability, religion or belief, nationality/culture/race, sexual orientation, or what age we are.
